GET WELL WISHES

Get well wishes to Betty Barger and Jone Burket Bowman, both of whom are now under medical treatment. Unfortunately, it appears as though we have had a rash of classmates and spouses who have been inflicted with some form of illness in recent months.

CLASSMATE ACTIVITIES

Glenn Julian

Glenn & Betty's grandson, Jeremy Julian, 26, entered the US Army on 1 September 2010 and is now training as an infantryman at Ft. Benning GA.

Editor's Comment: Please extend our sincere appreciation to Jeremy for his commitment to our country. He is willing to go into harm's way to defend us and our way of life.

Also, Glenn and Betty Julian made a 3-week trip to New England, where he painted watercolors in a NH Elderhostel class and also on Monhegan Island off the coast of Maine. En route we visited her great-great-great grandparents in Pennsylvania; they did not say much, but Grandpa qualifies her for DAR.

Susan Morton

Surrey School Classmates, do you remember Linda Layman? She attended 3rd – 7th grades with us before moving to West Palm Beach. She was one of my best friends growing up. We remained in contact over the years and recently she, and her husband Byford, visited and had lunch with us on the way home from a visit to her 103 year old Aunt in Fairmont, WV.

Rose Marie Nigh and Nancy Cunningham also came for lunch to visit and reminisce. Linda has fond memories of going to City Park, sledding on Reynolds Avenue, ice cream at the Superior Dairy and riding skates and bikes on Summit Avenue. We enjoyed the visit.

Jo Ann Copenhaver, Jone Lou Burket, Phyllis Gearhart & Barbara Ann Esterly

Back in July 1958, Jone Lou Burket, Phyllis Gearhart, Barbara Ann Esterly, and Jo Ann Copenhaver went to Atlantic City for a week. They all had been working for a year after graduation in '57 and saved money to go the following year. They apparently had a great time.

Jone Burket

Don & Jone Burket Bowman, as part of Fulton Financial Bank Senior Management team, participated in the opening bell ceremony at Nasdaq on Tuesday, October 19. What a great experience.

Dave Bragunier

After my father retired from the Western Maryland Railroad, he took on quite a few community based volunteer duties. When a few years had gone by he told me “get everything done that you wanted to before you retire, because afterward you won’t have enough time to do anything.”

Even though it sounds like something Yogi Berra might say, I am finding it to have some truth to it. Besides going to the gym three times a week, and doing the cooking, my activities include volunteering for the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, singing in a church choir, performing with the Choral Arts Society of Washington and others.

Last summer for the first time ever, my wife, Sara, and I took two vacations, one a driving trip to Halifax, Nova Scotia and the other a return trip to our favorite beach house on the Big Island of Hawaii. When I retired from the National Symphony in 2004, I thought that after that I wouldn’t really need regular vacations. Not so!!

I wrote this while returning to Washington on the train after singing in the chorus of Mahler’s Symphony #2 and Symphony #8 in Carnegie Hall.

On March 11, 1962 (my 23rd birthday), I played my first Carnegie Hall performance with the NSO. While that occasion was a tremendous thrill for me, I will confess that after playing many concerts there over the years, I became a bit blasé. This time, after not playing there in a few years and singing instead of playing the tuba, I got a new feeling of energy by just being there.

I did have a “bucket list” when I retired, and I have tried to work my way through it. Fortunately, as soon as I do something at the top of the list, other things get added to the bottom. I’ll never make it through the list, but for me, that is what retirement is all about. At our age, practically everything is optional and I hope that my classmates are taking the time and effort to take advantage of all the wonderful experiences out there.

Bob & Arlise Weaver Cianelli

We had a few days between Arlise's medical appointments/procedures so we flew to San Antonio to visit our son's family and surprise our youngest granddaughter Mia on her 7th birthday. We had a great time visiting, going to Sea World, soccer games, making cookies, finger Jell-O and getting beat at a lot of Uno competitions.

IF WOMEN CONTROLLED THE WORLD

WHY WOMEN SHOULDN'T TAKE MEN SHOPPING

After I retired, my wife insisted that I accompany her on her trips to Target. Unfortunately, like most men, I found shopping boring and preferred to get in and get out. Equally unfortunate, my wife is like most women - she loves to browse. Yesterday my dear wife received the following letter from the local Target.

Dear Mrs. Smith,

Over the past six months, your husband has caused quite a commotion in our store. We cannot tolerate this behavior and have been forced to ban both of you from the store. Our complaints against your husband are listed below and are documented by our video surveillance cameras.

1. June 15: Took 24 boxes of condoms and randomly put them in other people's carts when they weren't looking.
2. July 2: Set all the alarm clocks in Housewares to go off at 5-minute intervals.
3. July 19: Walked up to an employee and told her in an official voice, 'Code 3 in Housewares. Get on it right away'. This caused the employee to leave her assigned station and receive a reprimand from her Supervisor that in turn resulted with a union grievance, causing management to lose time and costing the company money.
4. August 4: Went to the Service Desk and tried to put a bag of M&Ms on layaway.
5. August 14: Moved a 'CAUTION - WET FLOOR' sign to a carpeted area.
6. August 15: Set up a tent in the camping department and told the children shoppers he'd invite them in if they would bring pillows and blankets from the bedding department to which twenty children obliged.
7. August 23: When a clerk asked if they could help him he began crying and screamed, 'Why can't you people just leave me alone?' EMTs were called.

8. September 4: Looked right into the security camera and used it as a mirror while he picked his nose.

9 September 10: While handling guns in the hunting department, he asked the clerk where the antidepressants were.

10. October 3: Darted around the store suspiciously while loudly humming the 'Mission Impossible' theme.

11. October 6: In the auto department, he practiced his 'Madonna look' by using different sizes of funnels.

12. October 18: Hid in a clothing rack and when people browsed through, yelled 'PICK ME! PICK ME!'

13. October 21: When an announcement came over the loud speaker, he assumed a fetal position and screamed 'OH NO! IT'S THOSE VOICES AGAIN!'

And last, but not least:

14. October 23: Went into a fitting room, shut the door, waited awhile, and then yelled very loudly, 'Hey! There's no toilet paper in here.' One of the clerks passed out.
